MY TRIP TO ENGLAND & WALES

By Mr. Pryce Jones, taken from His Diary

Wednesday, July 18th

We now make for Pembroke-shire, our first stop being Ten-by, a very popular resort with magnificent sands for children. On to Pembroke with its Government Docks, cross the Ferry boat to Neyland and on to Milford Haven. This is a natural anchorage for ships, and has now assumed importance. A proposed 100 million dollars is to be spent, making it an arrival port for big tankers with oil. On along the rugged coast reminding one of Cornwall, and finally we reach St. David's, the smallest city in Britain, a fascinating place and the ancient seat of Christianity. It has a beautiful Cathedral alongside the ruins of the old Cathedral, taking us back to the 8th century when the church was founded by St. David, the Patron Saint of Wales. The coast of Pembrokeshire abounds in sea birds, no less than 240 species. Ramsey Island is the home of many seals. Reluctantly leaving St. David's, we made our way up the coast to Fishguard, our next stopping place for the night. This is a port from which steamers run a service to Ireland but it also has a beautiful bay and is a holiday centre. At Fishguard we saw the Royal Oak Inn, where the treaty was signed which settled the last invasion of Britain, which was by the French in 1779. The actual oak tree is still seen on which the treaty was signed.

Weekly Inspirational Corner

(Sponsored by an Irma Times reader)

Seek ye the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him when He is near:

Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon.

For my thoughts are not your ways, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.

For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. — Isaiah 55:6-9.

COLIN EMERY DESJARDINE

Colin Emery Desjardine passed away at his home at Irma on Saturday, Sept. 27th. He was born at Grand Bend, Ont. in 1905 and came west to Halkirk with his parents in 1908. He worked in the Paradise Valley district from 1928 to 1936, in Halkirk 1936 to 1938 and in Forestburg from 1938 to 1939.

In October 1939 he was married to Miss Kathleen McCullough of Forestburg. He was Searle Grain agent at Halkirk, 1939 to 1949, at Carvel, Alta., 1950 to 1953 and came to the Irma Searle elevator in 1953 where he remained until his death.

Colin was of a genial disposition and made many friends. He was fond of hunting and very enthusiastic about sports of all kinds. He was an ardent curler and also a member of the Elks Lodge at Irma.

Funeral services were held at Halkirk United Church on Monday, Sept. 29th. Rev. McClinck performed the service and interment was made in the Halkirk cemetery.

Pal bearers were Cliff Smallwood, Neil McMillan, Don and Jack McKay of Irma, and Gordon Taylor and Ezra Emmett of Halkirk.

He leaves to mourn, his loving wife Kay, and four children, Barbara, Ivan, Edna and Leslie; his mother, Mrs. M. Desjardine of Halkirk; 3 sisters, Mrs. Earl Doan, Mrs. E. Emmott, Stettler; Mrs. Joe Doan, Edmonton; and 3 brothers, Hugh and Leonard of Halkirk and Lawrence of Calgary.

Donations to the following funds in memory of C. Desjardine are as follows:

LAURIE SUSIE JOHNSON

The Irma district was saddened by the recent untimely death of "Laurie Susan," three-and-a-half months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson of Oy-en, Alberta, and formerly of Wetaskiwin.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her mother and father, 2 brothers, Warren and Lonnie and 1 sister Cheryl, and Grandparents.

Death came very suddenly at the end of Oct. 2nd, 1958. She passed away at the University Hospital in Edmonton of a heart condition that she had had since birth and for which everything possible had been done to help her but to no avail.

The funeral service was held in the Irma United Church at 2:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 6th, very ably conducted by Rev. McMurry of Wetaskiwin and Rev. Inglis of Irma.

Interment was made in the Irma cemetery.

Flowers were received from: Mom, Dad, Warren, Lonnie and Cheryl; Grandmother and Dad; Art, Betty, Ronnie, Uncle Ron and Mavis; Uncle Benard and Mary; Uncle Ted, Eileen and family.

Flowers to the house from: Grandmother Prior; Babe and Ruby and family; Elsie, Sheila and Donna.

Guest Speaker Alliance Church

Dr. Myrdin Lewis D.D., FRGS.

Dr. Myrdin Lewis of Birmingham, England, will conduct a series of services in the Alliance Church, Irma, from Tuesday, Oct. 28th through Sunday, Nov. 9th except for Friday, Oct. 31 and Sat., Nov. 8th, on which there will be no public gathering. The meetings will take the form of a prophetic conference under the theme, "Mountain Peaks in Prophecy" and are of vital interest to all Dr. Lewis underscores the importance of the conference with the words "It may be later than you think!" He will speak on the current issues of our day and their prophetic significance in the light of Holy Scripture.

The Alliance Church in Irma feels that it is indeed privileged to have Dr. Lewis as its guest for this spiritual retreat. Dr. Lewis is well known, especially in the larger city churches and conferences of Canada, the U.S., the Baltic States and Great Britain. As a young man he was a noted opera singer in England and gained audience with the King and Queen of that country. Later he studied for full time Christian service and pastored different Baptist churches in Great Britain. For nine years he was factory chaplain in Birmingham, England, while pastoring a large Baptist church there. He is an editor and writer, a radio and T.V. speaker, a gifted gospel preacher with a warm Welsh humor.

Rev. Sheardown, pastor of the Alliance church, Irma, extends a warm invitation to the people of Irma and surrounding district to attend these meetings. He says "It may be a long time before this area has the opportunity of having a man of such calibre as Dr. Lewis visit them again, and I trust everyone will take advantage of hearing speak on topics that are of immediate interest to all of us today."

Later in the month the public will receive a folder through the mail, giving them details of the meetings with Dr. Lewis.

Soil Testing

If you have been thinking about getting your soil analysed, this is the best time of the year to get it done. It only costs 50c to get a sample checked and it can give you a lot of information regarding fertilizer requirements, alkali content, crops to grow, etc. Containers for sending in samples, instruction on taking samples are available from this office or from Soil and Feed Testing Laboratory, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Fertilizing Pastures
A lot of our seeded pastures could handle more stock if they were fertilized. Fall is a good time to apply fertilizer on grassland. It must be remembered that rates of application have to be high to get good results. A good idea is to try a small acreage first as an experiment. This doesn't cost too much and gives you a chance to see how different rates and analysis of fertilizer work on your own farm.

Livestock Parasites
Now is the time to treat cattle for lice. There are many insecticides available for straight louse control, but this would be a good time to try the new systemic insecticide CO-RAL which will give control of both warbles and lice. All cattlemen should give this product a trial on at least a few animals in the herd. If it works as well under farm conditions as under trials up to now it will be a big help.

Keep Calves Gaining
Calves will do much better if they are started eating grain before weaning. Whole oats is the best grain to start them on. Started on grain early they gain better and are easier to get onto full feed if you are going to feed them out this winter. It isn't hard to fix up a creep so that the calves can eat while the cows are kept out.

Irma Boy Broadcasts Over Radio on Sundays

Last Sunday morning we greatly enjoyed listening to Lutheran Morning Devotions over KXJL Calgary (1150 on your dial) at 9:05 a.m.

This devotional period is conducted by the Rev. Curtis Satre of Faith Lutheran Church, Calgary. As we all know, Curtis is one of our Irma boys.

Last Sunday he lovingly dedicated the broadcast in memory of his mother, Mrs. Helma Satre, who passed away in November, 1955.

Curtis conducts a devotional period over KXJL every Sunday at 9:05 a.m. We have listened to these before and have always found them well worth while.

Northern Nuggets

Harvest is pretty well completed in our district.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Oscar Johnson of North Surrey, New Westminster, B.C., father of Victor Johnson of Oy-en. Mr. Johnson passed away Oct. 6 and was buried at Camrose Oct. 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kellar of Inisfail were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kellar. Mrs. Edna Smith of Calgary spent the holiday weekend at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. I. Jones.

Commandant John Hardy of Winnipeg is visiting here with relatives at Albert and Minburn. Visiting with Mrs. W. D. Ramsay this week are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McKenzie and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Ramsay of Calgary.

Historians are uncertain as to the discovery of Hudson Strait, the sea passage from the Atlantic to Hudson Bay; John Cabot may have been in the Strait in 1496, or Portuguese sailors may have entered it a few years later.

CHANGE IN TRAIN SERVICE

Mr. W. Daniels at the C. N. station, tells us that a change in trains is due here at Irma on Oct. 26th. The "local" train service is to be speeded up when a diesel engine will replace the well known old steamer. The exact minute of the arrival of the new train will not be ascertained until the service commences but it will leave Wainwright going west at 2:15 p.m. and is due in the city at 5:50 p.m. That should bring it in at Irma at about 2:36 p.m.

In the morning it will leave Edmonton at 8:30 a.m. and arrive in Wainwright at 12 noon. That should bring it to Irma at approximately 11:35 a.m.

The Super Continental will be taken off altogether for the winter months and will be discontinued on Oct. 26th.

Woman's Way

MADELINE

"COMMUNIST BOOB"

It is time the Communist propaganda boys learned some basic facts about women's fashions! A country's fashions always reflect its way of life, its mood atmosphere and prosperity, a fact the Soviet writers don't seem to know.

A fancy magazine depicting the glories of life in the USSR has just reached my desk. It shows a lot of happy photos of people enjoying summer recreations. It contains a lot about the progress being made under Communism in farming, medicine, science and town planning. It devotes space to cultural activities—music, ballet and art. All very impressive!

Then the magazine bores badly! It shows a lavish display of Soviet fashions. Of all the drab, old-fashioned, unflattering, fuddy-duddy clothing! To any women the pictures reflect austerity, harsh and cheerless living conditions.

These Soviet fashions are not, mind you, the mass-produced inexpensive, commonplace clothing of the cheapest shops. These are pictures of the latest styles designed by five top Soviet fashion houses.

Imagine an extremely ordinary cotton dress with a band of white piping, its too-long, old-fashioned skirt, being shown as a latest style. Or a shapely wool suit, or a "rainproof" cotton coat, as the "latest thing." "Luxurious lamb-skin trims a warm coat," a tweed suit is described as having "new back interest pleats."

Hairdos and hats worn by the models in the photos are equally uninspiring. The shoes have funny-looking thick heels, the hosiery, a peculiar shine. Altogether a most depressing array!

Despite being photographed on slim, attractive models, the fashions speak volumes on life behind the iron curtain. I am sure Soviet women long for feminine finery just as other women do, and given half a chance, they could probably look as attractive.

No, I don't think their life is as happy and progressive as the rest of the magazine would like me to believe. Those Communist propaganda boys had better learn some fashion facts if they want to convince me that life is lovely in Russia.

Provincial-Municipal body to study Manitoba winter employment plans

A seven-man committee of provincial and municipal officials sat down (September 12) to hammer out a brief to Ottawa, in which federal support for municipal work plans to reduce winter unemployment will be sought.

Hon. John Thompson, labor minister, set up the committee following a survey of municipalities to estimate the probable number of unemployed who couldn't receive unemployment insurance benefits (and thus would become charges on the municipality), together with a list of local public works projects that could be undertaken during the winter.

The committee will include three cabinet ministers: Mr. Thompson, public works minister Hon. Erick Willis, and mines and resources minister Hon. Gurney Evans, plus one representative each from the Union of Manitoba Municipalities, Manitoba Urban association, the suburban association, and the City of Winnipeg.

Mr. Thompson said the committee would screen projects and select those to be included in the submission to Ottawa. He said that as Ottawa primarily was responsible for unemployment problems, the Manitoba contention was that federal funds could well be used in supporting public works that provide employment programs.

He added that a letter already had gone to federal labor minister Hon. Michael Starr outlining the general Manitoba proposals, and that the province was waiting for concurrence on its method of seeking to reduce winter unemployment.

SPC general manager at "Atoms for Peace" conference

David Cass-Beggs, general manager of the Saskatchewan Power Corporation, attended the second international conference on the peaceful uses of atomic energy, which was convened in Geneva, Switzerland.

At the conference, Mr. Cass-Beggs served as one of the advisers to the Canadian delegation, which was headed by Dr. W. B. Lewis, vice-president of research and development for Atomic Energy of Canada Limited.

The Canadian delegation consisted of five representatives, along with an advisory group of approximately 60 members. At the conference, Atomic Energy of Canada had 32 advisers; federal government departments and other agencies had 11; Canadian industry, including the utilities, 10; and Canadian universities six. The latter group included Dr. J. W. T. Spinks and Dr. L. Katz of the University of Saskatchewan.

Warns against land speculation in South Sask. river dam area

A warning against speculating in land for irrigation development in the South Saskatchewan River dam project was given by Hon. I. C. Nollet, minister of agriculture for the province.

"Recent comments would indicate that some people expect land values to rise greatly in the irrigable area, but facts and figures show that those who buy land on this assumption are taking a very long chance if they pay more than dry land values," said Mr. Nollet. He backed up his statements with the following points:

The Province is committed under the South Saskatchewan River Agreement, to initially construct works sufficient to irrigate about 50,000 acres of land. Anyone of at least five or six areas could be chosen for this initial development. Before the choice can be made, detailed soils and engineering work will be required as well as determination of the wishes and intentions of those who live in the area.

A land policy will be instituted as required to control speculation, but principally to ensure use of the water once the irrigation system is ready to operate. Even land that looks perfectly level needs expensive preparation for irrigation. It all needs some levelling; probably the minimum cost will be around $20-$25 per acre and it will run up to $50 on many of the good irrigable soils of the area. In addition, the irrigation system on the farm itself must be developed. These costs alone mean that there is no more than a minimum dry land value in the land itself.

Experience to date, in smaller projects developed by the Conservation and Development Branch in southern Saskatchewan and in recent developments on the St. Mary's Project, have indicated that speculation is not a major problem in reasonably good dry land farming areas. The main problem has been to persuade dry land farmers to prepare their land for irrigation and use water.

Perishable surprise package

Mr. Herb Simmons had a big surprise recently when he received a telephone call from the CNR station at Wainwright, Alta., and was told by the agent there that it was express there, and it was perishable, so it should be picked up before 5 p.m. "What could it be?" wondered Mr. Simmons.

However, over he goes to Wainwright, walks into the express office and asks for the parcel for Mr. Herb Simmons. "Yes sir, just a minute," says the agent and comes back and he came with two people, Mr. Simmons' brother and his wife from Ontario, on a surprise visit. —The Standard, Vermilion, Alberta.

SUPPORT LOCAL MERCHANTS

policy that would have as its objective the transfer of "excess" land from present dry land farmers to farmers who wish to irrigate. The opinions of interested persons and organizations on this matter will be sought before a final decision is reached.

"In the meantime, plans are being laid for obtaining the information required to select the area to be irrigated first."

"While only 50,000 acres may be involved for the next 10 years, we are anxious that the development proceed on a carefully planned, sound basis, so that the initial area will be a stimulation and encouragement to further development when it is required."

Such melting sweetness!

These tea-time treats will appeal to young and old alike with their delicate taste, light texture and attractive shape. When you bake at home, they are easy to make with Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast.

DUTCH DOUGHNUT TWISTS

1. Measure into measuring cup 1/2 cup lukewarm water. Stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar. Sprinkle with contents of Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 min. THE BATTER WILL BE LIGHT AND FLUFFY.
2. Cream in a large bowl 1/4 cup shortening. Blend in 1/2 cup granulated sugar. 1/2 teaspoon ground mace. 1/2 teaspoon salt. 2 well-beaten eggs. Add dissolved yeast. 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. 1 1/2 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour and beat until smooth and elastic. Work in an additional 1 1/2 cups (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour.
3. Turn out on floured board; knead until elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top.
4. Punch down dough. Turn out on floured board; roll into an 8 x 12" rectangle. Cut dough into 24 strips, 1/2" wide and 8" long. Fold each strip in half, twist lightly and pinch ends together. Place on lightly-floured cookie sheet. Grease tops. Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk—about 3/4 hr. Deep fry in fat heated to 375°; cook until golden, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Cool warm. Crullers with a mixture of 3/4 cup granulated sugar and 1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon. Yield—2 doz.

News Report From Edmonton

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON — The Alberta government has opened a new offensive in the drawn-out battle against high freight rates.

Premier Manning has written directly to Prime Minister Llewellyn, suggesting a federal operating subsidy as an alternative to rate increases being sought by Canada's two major railways.

He bases the suggestions on this argument:

The full impact of the increases—which could be as high as 33 per cent—would be felt by some 40 per cent of the nation's shippers in the already hard-hit prairie provinces and the Maritimes.

If the railways are important to the country's economy, he argues, why not make all the people of Canada pay some of the cost of keeping them operating? A federal subsidy would spread the burden evenly, he says.

The letter says it is time for a "thorough re-appraisal of the entire freight rate situation." To grant the increases, it says, would be "so manifestly unfair as to be indefensible."

The premier gives a striking example of how the existing rate structure works a hardship on prairie shippers. Iron and steel articles shipped from Toronto to Vancouver go at a rate of $1.29 per 100 pounds. The same items shipped to Alberta cost $2.82 per 100 pounds, even though the haul is some 800 miles shorter.

The rate to Vancouver is lower because it comes under the agreed charge setup—a competitive rate set by contract between the railways and the shipper. The railway gets all the shipper's business, and in return the shipper gets a lower rate.

Any increases authorized by the federal transport board would not boost the agreed charges, which are in effect on some 450 commodities. They would all be added to the already high rates in the Prairies and the Maritimes.

Premier Manning says he wrote directly to the prime minister because experience has shown no help can be expected from the transport commissioners. Meanwhile, the railways say if they don't get more revenue they'll be unable to meet employees' wage demands, and there may be a crippling, nationwide strike.

ATOMS FOR OIL—As predicted here some weeks ago, new attention is being focussed on northern Alberta's fabulous Athabasca Oil Sands. Word comes from Ottawa that the federal mines department is interested in a proposal to use atomic explosions to free the oil from the sand.

Here's how the process is supposed to work: The terrific heat from an underground nuclear blast would melt the sand and leave a reservoir of oil which could be pumped from the surface.

Richfield Oil Corporation, a big U.S. concern with Canadian headquarters in Calgary, is promoting the plan. It proposes to get the necessary nuclear device through the U.S. government. One hurdle to be cleared is permission from the Alberta oil and gas conservation board, but there is little doubt this will be granted.

Increased interest in oil sands experiments is due partly to a change in oil sands leasing regulations passed by the government in 1955. Prior to that, any company that wanted to hold acreage had to start building a plant within a year. Now, a company with land in the sands can take its time and experiment until the government decides it is time for action.

A number of other big companies are testing processes. Royalite Oil Co. and Cities Service Petroleum Corporation are working on a process to extract oil from surface deposits. Details are secret. Some major companies are interested in a process, developed in Edmonton, which uses ultrasonic sound waves to wrench the oil from the sand.

The estimated 300 billion barrels in the sands aren't needed to meet world supplies at present, but some day they will be and the first company to find an economical extraction process will gain an important advantage over competitors.

Last week, they decided the government was adding insult to injury in its contest to choose a design for 50 old folks' homes to be built throughout the province. The contest is open to anyone who can draw a straight line. The Alberta Association of architects warned its members that to enter the $10,000 contest would be regarded as unprofessional conduct. Premier Manning's reaction: "regrettable."

Like all '59 Chevrolets, the Impala Sport Sedan is roomier, smoother riding.

what Canada wants, Canada gets in a Chevy!

'59 CHEVROLET

It's shaped to the modern Canadian taste with a lean, clean silhouette, crisp new contours, beautifully restrained accents. It brings you more spaciousness and comfort with a new Body by Fisher. It has a bright new sheen — a new kind of finish that keeps its lustre without waxing for up to three years. New bigger brakes. Vast new areas of visibility. New Hi-Thrift 6. New handling ease and road steadiness. It's new right down to the tires!

Never before has an automobile manufacturer made such sweeping changes two years in a row. And never before has any car been new like this one.

The 1959 Chevrolet is more than a restyled car — more, even, than a completely new car. It's your kind of car. Shaped to reward your new taste in style. Designed to anticipate your desire for greater roominess and comfort. Engineered for greater safety, economy, ease of handling and smoothness of ride.

Your first look shows you that Chevrolet says new like nobody else. New Slimline design brings entirely new poise and proportion to automobile styling. Inside the new and roomier Body by Fisher you'll find truly tasteful elegance. And you'll have clear seeing from every seat. The new Vista-Panoramic windshield curves overhead — and there are bigger windows all around.

When you take the wheel, you begin to find that Chevy's newness goes down deep. A new steering ratio makes handling easier. New suspension engineering gives you a more stable ride. There's a sweet new edition of Turbo-glide.* Eight V8's plus a new Hi-Thrift 6 that goes and goes on a gallon. New and bigger brakes. Even new tires!

There's still more! A new Magic-Mirror finish that keeps its shine without waxing or polishing for up to three years. New Impala models. Wonderful new station wagons — including one with a rear-facing rear seat. And, with all that's new, you find those fine Chevrolet virtues of economy and practicality. Stop in now and see the '59 Chevrolet.

*Extra-cost option.

Bel Air 4-Door Sedan — new right down to its tires.

A TIMES WANT ADV. PAYS

What Are Your Views On Secondary Education?

May I state as an introduction to this short article that it is generally agreed that, in Alberta, we want the best possible educational opportunity for every boy or girl in the province, whether living on the farm or in the city, whether average, below average or gifted, whether technically, vocationally or academically inclined and whether his parents income is large or small. This will mean evolving the best possible system of education and then implementing it in all areas. This, while retaining the same high quality, may necessitate one form in urban centres and something different in rural areas.

Rural parents may be faced with some very important decisions. First, are they satisfied with the limited type of P. H. School instruction available within their immediate area? If so, there is no problem. If not, are they prepared to make some sacrifice to give their children greater opportunities? Should small High Schools continue to give a general program with perhaps more emphasis on practical rather than theoretical mathematics; more emphasis and drill on competence in grammar, spelling, letter writing; more emphasis on everyday problems of citizenship? Such an education could prepare a student to enter vocational, technical, business or Agricultural Colleges or might serve as terminal courses for others. Should each Division or County provide one High School with somewhat similar program to the present one but with the emphasis on academic work—more theoretical mathematics, more concentration on science in English, more content in Social Studies and possibly more Academic electives? Should these schools include a high standard of Business Education which would be much more than courses in typing and bookkeeping and have appeal for boys as well as girls? Should both Local and Divisional High Schools provide Shop and Home Economics Courses? Should each Region (4 to 6 Divisions or Counties) have a Community College offering Technical, Vocational and Agricultural Courses in great variety? Should all students have the privilege of attending the school of their choice without extra expenditure? Should students attend Regional Schools by double-bussing (what length of time should be considered maximum) or should specially constructed, strictly supervised dormitories be the answer? Should such be provided without extra cost to the parents? Should this principle apply to Community Colleges so that expense would prevent no student from attending?

These are some of the problems. There are no easy answers. Comments and suggestions from parents in rural areas will be most welcome.

—Ivy Taylor, Member, Alberta Royal Commission on Education (Mrs. W. C. Taylor, Box 9, Wainwright, Alberta.)

Conservatives Name Prov. Co-Ordinator

Allan Lazerte has been named Provincial Co-ordinator for the Progressive Conservative Party. The Progressive Conservative Party Leader, W. J. C. Kirby, made the announcement at the West End.

Mr. Lazerte was a strong contender for the Party Leadership in August, and was previously Northern Alberta Organizer, and campaign manager for the successful candidate in Athabasca, Mr. Jack Bigg, M.P.

He will direct the organization of Alberta Constituencies and co-ordinate the activities of all 65 Alberta ridings. Mr. Kirby in his announcement stated that his tour of the Province indicates a very strong swing to his party in all parts of the Province, with active organization already going forward in the majority of the ridings. Organizers will be appointed next week for North and South Alberta, and a Public Relations Director will be named to cover the Province.

FIRE PREVENTION MESSAGE

AS THE Minister in charge of the Saskatchewan Fire Prevention Act, I am continually confronted with statistics from the Fire Commissioner's Office showing heavy losses both in property and lives. My job is to promote the enactment of regulations in the statute books of Saskatchewan which will enable the provincial Fire Commissioner and fire prevention officers to do their job in a more effective way.

While we in Saskatchewan do have a Fire Prevention Act which gives the Fire Commissioner, his staff, and local assistants (municipal fire chiefs or secretary-treasurer) a great deal of power to remove these hazardous conditions, or to prevent their coming into existence, I do not believe that legislation is the complete answer. We must have an AROUSED PUBLIC CONCERN regarding those conditions which have been known to cause destruction of life and property in our province. This, in my opinion, can best be accomplished through an educational program of the type being promoted by this newspaper.

It is to our discredit that Canada leads the world in the field of per capita fire losses, although in Saskatchewan we boast of the lowest fire loss in the Dominion. However, our boasting can be short-lived if we should take an apathetic attitude towards the warnings which are continually being published by our local newspapers.

During the calendar year of 1957, 1,772 fires were reported in Saskatchewan, with a fire loss amounting to $2,063,808.75. During the same period, however, 18 children, 6 women and 8 men lost their lives in Saskatchewan fires—a direct result of human carelessness.

Our provincial and municipal officials have, and are leading the way towards a better record for fire safety. However, if they are to maintain this good record they must continue to receive the support of all Saskatchewan citizens. I can think of no finer way to demonstrate your interest than by adhering to provincial laws and regulations governing fire safety, and by following the fire safety rules in your homes and places of business.

All councils, whether in towns, villages or hamlets, should provide their local fire departments with the best equipment they can possibly afford. Such measures will permit these willing and public-spirited members of local fire departments who voluntarily offer their services to adequately protect life and property in the community.

HON. C. C. WILLIAMS
Minister of Labour

DON'T GIVE FIRE A CHANCE TO START

With ordinary care 9 of every 10 fires might be prevented

Every week across Canada fire strikes at well over one thousand homes. Financially, this means a sickening yearly waste of nearly $50,000,000—but it is the least of the story. Actually, the typical

$5.86 'Bolt' now $8.18

If not the worst, at least one of the worst of any nation known.

That's Canada's fire loss record, per head of population. An international summary made in 1952 by a United Nations' report showed this country ahead of a dozen others. Our per capita figure was $5.86, and the U.S. $4.56, compared with an average of $1.20 for 10 European countries.

While no further report has been issued by the UN or other authority, Canada's own per capita figure has steadily worsened. For 1957 it was $8.18.

A Canadian fire scientist, logically lists his four principal causes of fire: 1, Men; 2, Women; 3, Children; 4, Lightning.

house fire averages under $500 in damages.

What really hurts is that three-quarters of all our fire deaths occur in these homes—and that for everyone killed many more are horribly burned and often permanently scarred. This is human life and human agony.

Such is the heart of the fire services' appeal at Fire Prevention Week—for every man, woman and child. Especially for the children, who make up nearly half the victims.

Of every 10 fires, nine are the result of ordinary carelessness and thoughtless neglect of simplest precaution.

And regardless of the cause, experienced firefighters point out, many of the tragedies are needless. Unfamiliar with fire's behaviour, the victims are often trapped by their own ignorance. They might have gotten out if they knew how.

They didn't know how. So they die. Every home, every Canadian can richly profit by learning the simple lessons of fire and safety.

WOMEN BACK FIRE ATTACK

Wives of the fire chiefs, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs enlist the support of the nation's womenfolk in helping to direct greater attention to the common causes of fire in the home. By formal resolution at annual conference, offer of supply of information was made to other organizations of women, seeking to encourage a wider understanding of the "simple rules of fire safety."

Requests for information in this regard should be sent to

Sparky says:

If Fire Strikes Your Home...

GET OUT of the house the minute you discover it or smell smoke! ALWAYS be ready to use different escape routes from any room in your house!

TEST doors before opening. If doors are hot, block them with furniture or wet mattresses to keep out smoke and gases. Get out another way!

NEVER jump from upper-story windows except as a last resort! Wait for firemen.

HOLD your breath if you have to make a dash through smoke and flames! REMEMBER, the air is usually better near the floor in a smoke-filled room!

CALL the fire department at once! They know how to fight fire. Don't waste your time or your life trying to fight a fire, unless it's so small you're sure you can control it with the right extinguisher.

DON'T ever go back to a burning building for any reason! Smoke and fire gases from even the smallest fire can be deadly.

GET medical treatment at once, if you're burned or exposed to fire and smoke! Seemingly minor burns or smoke inhalation can have fatal results.

IT HAPPENED IN A FLASH

"It happened in a flash, like a bolt from the blue."

Not all victims of sudden flash fires of the last year in Saskatchewan are alive today to tell their mournful tales.

An elderly couple's delight was to share a pleasant smoke before bedtime. The wife struck an ordinary wooden match to light her cigarette. Pfft! The match head soared up into the overhead plastic wrapped lamp. The plastic flamed, falling on the woman. Instantly her frilly nightgown became a torch.

Another Saskatchewan family's fun was to take the kids for a while and have a bonfire meal. Dad took along a bottle of gas from the power lawnmower supply to "kick up" the damp twigs. One of the youngsters dribbled gas into the embers. In a split second, he was his own "dying bonfire", sadly to be remembered by his family and chums.

A woman was about to make "french fries". She tossed the potato slices, still wet from the soaking pot, into the pan of 550 degrees grease. Water and grease having a strong dislike for each other, the water made the grease sputter into the stove flame, setting her flammable fabric dress afire.

More flash fire snapshots:

A light bulb fell and shattered in a garage gas pan. Children played with the oil control valve of a space heater, shutting it off and turning it on, for an explosion that blew them and the room apart. A woman left the pressing iron

Handy men take note

Fire safety is no accident and this is particularly true for the "do-it-yourself" operator around the home. Here are practical hints from the experience of Canada's 27,000 firefighters, pretty self-reliant fellows themselves in family chores and crafts.

Blow torches and welding equipment. No other equipment has greater "built-in" hazards. Fuel and light out-of-doors. You're asking for trouble when you light a torch in a crowded space to thaw out frozen water pipes.

Gasoline and other fuels. Never store in glass bottles, which may fall and break, igniting or vaporizing and exploding.

Clean up shavings, sawdust and other debris after each day's work. A tidy work area will make the next go at the job a happier and a faster one.

going and left the house, and a short while later the house and a next-door garage were destroyed.

In the kitchen category, the cook left the pot roast simmering to exchange neighborhood gossip and the pot boiled dry and caught fire and so did the kitchen.

And out on a farm somebody lit a smudge to protect the cattle from mosquitoes and suddenly it was out of control, leaving a handsome new barn in ruins.

The 1959 flash fire record won't be so depressing if the "thoughtless sombodies" give the possible causes a few seconds of prior thinking.

WHICH EXTINGUISHER?

THE FACT that there are different kinds of fire and different types of extinguishers seems complicated at first. But actually, it's all quite simple, once you get a picture of the various extinguishers in your mind and know what they contain. To make things even simpler, every extinguisher in a public place, in a factory, on a bus, and so on, is usually of a type that is right for the kinds of materials being protected.

For a free pamphlet describing different kinds of fire extinguisher, their use for the three types of fire, and the methods of operation and care, write to the Office of the Fire Commissioner, Administration Building, Regina, Sask., and ask for pamphlet "Put That Fire Out."
